REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

The first week in October, 1888, long stood out as one of the most strenuous in the lives of the firemen of Redwood City, the department having been called upon to assist in extinguishing no less than four fires, two of which for a time threatened to be serious on their consequences. The fires of these occurred at the most dangerous time of the 24 hours—just after the midnight hour, at the home of County Clerk Eikerenkotter on Stambaugh street. While not definitely known, it was generally supposed that the fire was due to the carelessness of the occupant of the house, starting from a candle burning in one of the upper rooms by Mr. Eikerenkotter himself, who had been leaving cartridges in the room where the fire started early in the evening. At any rate the first intimation of the fire was given when Eikerenkotter was awakened after midnight by the explosion of a cartridge. It was some time before the fire alarm was sounded, and when the firemen arrived at the place the flames had gained a good headway and the building with much of its contents was practically destroyed. The following afternoon the department was called out for a fire at the residence of Father O'Sullivan, near the depot. This fire started in one of the outhouses and was gotten under control by the firemen before it reached the main residence. On Sunday night fire was discovered in the residence of Mrs. Willis on Cassia street and the firemen again called out. This proved but a slight fire and was extinguished before the arrival of the department. Before daylight the following Wednesday morning another alarm was sounded this time for a fire in Cullen's wood and hay yard on Main street, where the firemen were given another severe test. The fire in this case started in one of the small sheds containing baled hay and closely adjoining the main barn in which a large quantity of hay was stored, and which for a time seemed certain of destruction. Prompt response and good work won the day however and the flames were confined to the small shed in which they had originated, resulting in but small loss.

Considering the fact that it was a "presidential year," one of the most peaceful political campaigns in the history of San Mateo county was the general election in the year 1888. While nominees of the Republican and Democratic parties contended for the honors and emoluments of the various county offices, there seems to have been an almost utter absence of that personal vituperation which had generally characterized election contests. While Harrison was given a majority of 130 over Cleveland in the county, the choice for local officers seemed to be more of a personal than political one, the two parties sharing rather equally in the victory. The largest majority given any candidate was accorded J. F. Johnston, who was elected County Clerk by a majority of 606 votes over W. Savage, Treasurer Chamberlain coming next with a majority of 560. At the same time George H. Buck the Democratic candidate for District Attorney, was given a majority of 308. The Republicans secured the following offices: Sheriff, W. H. Kline; clerk, J. F. Johnston; auditor, George Barker; treasurer, P. P. Chamberlain; coroner, James Crowe. To the Democrats went: Assemblyman, J. L. Frank; tax collector, Henry Pitcher; district attorney, George H. Buck. What was probably the smallest real estate transaction ever made in Redwood City was recorded in the latter part of February, 1889. This was the purchase by Claus Hadler of a piece of property having a frontage of just one foot on what is now known as Broadway, then called Bridge street. The purchase was not made with the idea of erecting a skyscraper, but rather with the idea on the part of Mr. Hadler of securing title to a strip of land upon which he had inadvertently built the wall of his brick building some time before.

Miss Josselyn Married.
St. Luke's church in San Francisco was the scene of a fashionable wedding at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon when Miss Myra McGavock Josselyn became the bride of William Coppée Duncan. The color scheme in the church decorations was pink, from the palest shade to the deep American beauty. There was a brilliant reception afterward at the Fairmont. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Ford Nichols, who was assisted by Rev. Edward Morgan. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Josselyn of Woodside.

Eighth Grade Girls Win.
The girls of the eighth grade basket ball team defeated the girls of the high school Friday evening by a score of 9 to 3. The grammar school girls played a splendid game and were a credit to the efficient coaching of Miss McEvoy. Lillian Martens, Hazel Lamb, Lilla Gould, Hilda Sharp, Josie Road and Junita Parker represented the grammar school.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC WILL BRING BELL TO COAST.

The school children of San Francisco and of California will not be called upon to contribute their nickles and dimes toward a transportation fund to bring the famous Liberty Bell to San Francisco for the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The Southern Pacific Company, through its officials in San Francisco made an offer to the exposition directors to transport the Liberty Bell from Philadelphia to San Francisco free of charge. The railroad offers to bring the bell out and to give it as much attention throughout the trip as is now given it in its present resting place in Philadelphia.

The State of Pennsylvania values the Liberty Bell as much as it does the history connected with it and the Southern Pacific officials are prepared to see that provisions are made for a company of Pennsylvania militia to guard the bell on its long trip across the continent. The trip of the honored old bell that in 1776 announced the signing of the Declaration of Independence, will be a triumphal procession. At every station in the country where the train stops—and it will have to stop at nearly all of them—thousands of school children and their parents will gather to see the bell that tolled the greatest story that has ever been published in the United States. It is planned to erect a small belfry on a car and to hang the bell in that for the trip across the continent. United States history began with the tolling of Liberty Bell and there is not a native of this great country, who does not want to see the beginning of the history of the United States.

The new arrangement of the street lights on Broadway is a great improvement, giving a better illumination. The lights on Main street will be likewise changed, after which the lamps on both streets will be kept burning all night. If you want a good clean evening's amusement, try the Bell Theater.

DEPUTY SHERIFF SPOTS HIS MAN

TWO WILD SHOTS CAUSE FUGITIVE TO RUN, OFFICER TAKES BETTER AIM.

George Silver, Burly Negro, Enters House on Broadway—Telephone Call Brings Officer.

Two shots fired over his head by Deputy Sheriff Moran Saturday night failed to bring George Silver, a fleeing burglar, to a stop and the officer fired a third time and brought Silver down with a bullet in his right leg.

Shortly after 12 o'clock Mrs. Geo. Winter who resides with her family at 303 Broadway, was awakened by a noise in one of her rooms and on investigation she found the colored intruder in the house. Going quietly to the telephone she called up the jail and notified Officer Moran who responded quickly.

When Moran arrived at the house he made a hasty search and found the negro in the bathroom with the door locked. Moran ran around to an outside window and saw that the burglar was just leaving the premises by the front entrance. He ran after him and caught up with him on the sidewalk. The deputy called to him to surrender but instead of complying with the command the burglar aimed a terrific blow at Moran which the latter cleverly dodged and answered with an upercut which landed. The negro then fled down Broadway. Moran, pursuing, ordered him to halt and as a means of scaring him into submission fired two shots over the fugitive's head. This failed to have the desired effect and Moran took a shot directly at the negro, firing low. This shot took effect in Silver's right leg, above the knee and quickly brought him to a standstill when the officer placed him under arrest.

Silver was bleeding profusely from the wound. He was hurried to the office of Dr. Taggart and given surgical attention. It was found that the bullet had passed through the leg. Silver is a husky fellow, weighing over 200 pounds, while Moran is a small man of much less averdupois and plenty of grit. Silver was locked up in the county jail where he will be confined until something more is learned concerning him. His wound is healing rapidly.

POOR FARM INMATE HEIR TO PORTUGUESE FORTUNE.

A letter was received Monday by John F. Ford, superintendent of the county poor farm, asking him to assist in locating Manuel G. Mendoza, who has a fortune awaiting him in Portugal. Mendoza is a descendant from a noble family and he has now become an heir to a vast estate.

John Butts, the superintendent of the San Benito county farm at Hollister reports that Mendoza left there on December 18, 1906. At that time he said he intended to reside in San Mateo county.

Want Another Crematory
The Abbey Land and Improvement Company and the Mount Olivet Cemetery Association brought suit in the Superior Court Monday to prevent the Board of Supervisors from enforcing the ordinance prohibiting more than one crematory in any one township of the county. The crematory association claims that the law is unfair as it creates a monopoly. Cypress Lawn maintains the only crematory operating in the county at present. The filing of the suit followed the refusal of the Board of Supervisors to repeal the ordinance at the request of Ross & Ross, attorneys for the association.

THE NEW YEAR Promises much for the county THE BOOSTERS Will make expectations realities. JOIN THEM

WILL BE A CANDIDATE.

John MacBain of Menlo Park has announced that he will be a candidate for the office of supervisor of the Third township at the primary election to be held next August. Mr. MacBain held the position four years after the earthquake and gave entire satisfaction to his constituents. He served his township with ability and honesty and though handicapped for want of funds constructed several good roads in his district. During the construction of the new courthouse he was on the building committee and by careful attention to every detail was instrumental in securing for the people of the county the beautiful courthouse they now have. Mr. MacBain is a practical man, a good parliamentarian and a gentleman of fine presence. The voters of the township will do well to elect him.

WHAT IS THE USE?

Society is so accustomed to weigh men by their success in accumulating property that many a man counts his life a failure who, dying, leaves no stores of earthly treasure for his heirs to quarrel over. Never was there a greater mistake. A man's coin value is really his lowest and meanest value. Wealth is often his ruin, generally his curse, and always a source of care and annoyance.

The acquisition of a reasonable amount of property—enough to ward off the danger of want in old age—is both desirable and commendable. But that once attained and absolutely assured, life surely has other objects that are infinitely nobler than the continued piling up of wealth.

Many a man with acquisitive faculties largely developed gathers in wealth for the purpose of doing good with it, and after scattering sunshine all along his path, manages to come out about even in the end. Such a man has lived to some purpose, and no doubt has got out of life more solid happiness in each month of his existence than ever old moneybags obtained from his dollars in his whole lifetime.

The only true measurement of a man and the highest standard of his valuation is character. If he bears about him the genuine article, stamped and registered in the mint of true manhood, he is rich, and never otherwise. Many of the greatest benefactors of the world—the master minds whose names will go down to the remotest time—never had time to acquire worldly riches.

What is the use, then, of wasting one's best energies for what one really does not need? For after all, life is a success or failure only in proportion to its accumulation of those treasures of heart and brain that endure forever.

Sheriff Fires Deputy.

The appointment of Ted Martenstein, the popular and efficient motorcycle patrolman for the Third township, as deputy sheriff has been revoked by Sheriff Mansfield. Having received his appointment as motorcycle man from Supervisor McEvoy he will retain that position. The cause of the revocation of the appointment of deputy sheriff is due to differences that arose between Martenstein and his superior officer.

Mrs. James A. Robinson has closed her pretty home on the grassy hillside back of Redwood City and has taken apartments in the City for the remainder of the season. She is accompanied by her pretty daughter, Miss Elena Robinson and son, Porter Robinson. They will entertain considerably during the winter months.

Redwood City can boast of one of the best popular amusement houses on the peninsula. At no place are better pictures shown, either as to quality or character than at the Bell Theatre, while the house is well ventilated and comfortably seated. The management has secured some more special features for the coming week.

INSURANCE ORDERS HOLD JOINT INSTALLATION.

Following a long established custom, members of Robin Hood Circle, Women of Woodcraft, and Embarkadero Camp, Woodmen of the World, met in joint session Thursday evening for the purpose of witnessing the installation of the new officers of the two organizations. This annual event is looked forward to by members of the two orders as a social affair of much interest and drew out a large attendance, the hall being filled to its seating capacity.

After a short business session of Robin Hood Circle, the charge of the lodge room was surrendered to the neighbors of Embarkadero Camp. For the Woodmen the installation ceremony was conducted by the retiring council commander, J. E. Harris, who inducted into office the following: M. A. Sharkey, consul commander; A. O. Anderson, adviser lieutenant; F. W. Glennan, clerk; A. H. Lanfear, Sr., banker; William Mollison, escort; F. E. Peterson, watchman; A. H. Lanfear, Jr., sentry; C. J. Bettin, manager; Dr. N. C. Bissell, physician.

Again the hall was surrendered to the direction of Robin Hood Circle and with the beautiful ritual of the Women of Woodcraft, rendered by Mrs. Selma Locker as installing officer, ably assisted by the splendid degree team under the captaincy of Mrs. Chatham, the following officers were installed: Mary DeMartini, past guardian neighbor; Minnie Rockwell, guardian neighbor; Daisy Kreiss, adviser; Pauline Hexner, banker; Emma Winter, clerk; Lu. A. Harris, attendant; Louise Bettin, magician; Hilma Anderson, inner sentinel; Hannah Sahlgren, outer sentinel; Dr. H. W. Taggart, physician; Margaret Chatham, captain of the guard; Hannah Paulsen, manager; Mary Lorton, musician. At the conclusion of the installation ceremonies, Mrs. Locker was presented by the members with a handsome silver spoon as a token of appreciation of her continuous services as installing officer, a position which she has most acceptably filled for a number of years. In recognition of the efficient services rendered by her as captain of the guard, Mrs. Chatham was presented with a handsome bouquet of carnations.

After the new officers had been placed in their stations, an hour was devoted to a social reunion of the members of the two orders, during which an interesting program of literary and musical numbers were rendered. Before the guests departed a splendid lunch was served by the ladies of Robin Hood Circle, who were the hosts of the evening.

Deny Danger of Fumes.

MENLO PARK, Jan. 17—From all accounts the fears of local residents that the Reed reduction plant now being erected at Ravenswood will be a damage to the community are groundless. The statement is made by those who are interested in the plant that it will not be operated by heat of any kind. There will not even be a furnace or smokestack to the plant. It is assured that such an institution might be placed in the heart of a city without detrimental or disagreeable effect to the residents across the street. There are no fumes, gases or smoke from it. It is the very fact that this process, which is controlled by secrets and patents of the Reed Corporation, is the very opposite to the smelter that makes it of such tremendous importance. To the mining world the process is revolutionary and is one of the greatest steps forward ever witnessed in the history of the industry. Being a method sought for years by mining experts, Refractory ores are the vast quantity of ores, which defy the ordinary treatment of the smelting kind. Senator George C. Perkins, who is one of the directors and is said to be heavily interested in the Reed Company, has been for many years interested in the discovery of this process, which, it is stated, has also been sought by the Guggenheims and other large interests. A corporation of the magnitude of the Reed Zinc Company and composed of men of the greatest prominence in western financial affairs, which is in absolute control of such a process as this means a plant of vast size and an industry of unlimited scope and possibilities. In order to quiet the fears of the timid ones the workings of the plant should be investigated by the County Development Association and if it is harmless or otherwise the public should know it.

It is stated that another industry has been secured for Ravenswood—a shoe factory which will employ fifty skilled workmen. And this is not all. Mr. Parkinson will shortly announce the establishment of other industries and before many months there will be life and bustle on the bay shore and a prosperous city will begin building up.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT FAVORS BOND ISSUE

Two More Petitions Presented Urging Council to Bond City for Street Improvement

That the general sentiment of the people of Redwood City is strongly in favor of the expense of the municipality bearing a portion of the expense of the improvement of its public streets was given another strong demonstration at the meeting of the City Council last Monday evening in the presentation of two more petitions signed by the voters of the city, urging the submission to the voters of the proposition to issue bonds for that purpose. One of these petitions was from the property owners of the territory comprised in what was formerly known as district No. 15, and the second from those of district No. 16. Both bore a long list of signatures, evidently those of practically every interested person in the two districts. While asking that the city do this much toward improvements which will admittedly be of material public benefit, the property owners gave evidence of their readiness to do their share by giving endorsement to a plan of improvement of the streets bordering their property. This work is proposed to be by the private contract plan, as providing the most economical and expeditious method. Specifications for this improvement were outlined in the petition and consist of an oil-macadam, composed of a layer of broken rock of a depth of five inches, to be covered with a coating of oil and screenings. These specifications are identical with those proposed by the members of the seventh district improvement club, and were suggested by City Engineer Ploda.

That the plan meets with the approval of the trustees was indicated by the fact that City Attorney Mansfield was urged to take no time in the preparation of the preliminary steps for the submission of the bond issue to the people, and to request the assurance of the attorney that the papers would be ready for the next meeting of the council. In fact they were assured that the necessary data as to the interest to be improved been in his possession, the proceedings would be ready for initiation at that time.

Beyond the consideration of these petitions the work of the session was confined entirely to the consideration of routine business, probably owing to the fact that a bare quorum of trustees were in attendance. Both Trustees Beeger and Brown were unable to attend, the latter being still in delicate health. The petition of a number of residents of Redwood City for the installation of electric lights on the thoroughfare was granted, and the city electrician was directed to make the necessary extension of the system as soon as his work would permit. Discussion of this petition indicated that the trustees were inclined to extend the lighting system to all parts of the city as rapidly as possible, all expressing the opinion that the city streets were not only a convenience to the public but an excellent publicity investment.

In the absence of Trustee Beeger, Chairman Merrill presented a report from the committee to which had been delegated the purchase of furniture and fittings for the new city hall indicated that had been let and that the furniture would be ready for delivery by the end of the month. After careful investigation orders for various portions of the furnishings had been given to four San Francisco firms, each of whom were the lowest bidders for their special articles.

Following the submission of a report C. H. Woodhams, a local furniture dealer submitted a bid for window shades for the building. This was referred to the same committee for investigation.

A map of a new subdivision of a portion of the Eagle Hill Villa tract was presented from the C. A. Hooper Company, owners of the property. H. C. Tuchen, the local agent of the Eagle Hill subdivision, explained to the trustees the position of the subdivision and the position of the streets, stating that it was the desire of the owners of the property that the necessary preliminary steps be taken so that final action might be had at the next meeting. A pleasing feature of the subdivision is the fact that all of the lots are of a size calculated to encourage the best class of investors.

Acting upon the suggestion of the experts made following the recent examination of the books of the city officials, the council ordered the closing of a number of extraneous funds by the transfer of small balances to the general fund.

Superintendent of construction D. MacKenzie informed the council that present indications were that the contractors for the new city hall building would have their work completed by the end of the present month and that the building would be ready for formal acceptance at the next meeting. This announcement was hailed with much satisfaction by the trustees, who lost no time in suggesting to the city attorney that he prepare the necessary resolution permitting the change of meeting place to more commodious and comfortable quarters.

The expected street railway franchise failed to materialize, and the usual motion ordering a postponement for two weeks was passed. This time it was stated that the delay was made in order that the Board of Trade may be given a further opportunity to consider some of the proposed provisions in consultation with Judge Fitzpatrick, who so far has failed to make known his opinion as to the receipts suggested.

The usual monthly reports of the city officers were presented and after approval were ordered filed. The report of City Marshal Coleman shows that during the past month the collections of his office amounted to $3,733.10.

Treasurer Towne reported that the receipts of the general fund for the month were as follows:

|                         |          |
|-------------------------|----------|
| State, redemption taxes | $108.85 |
| Licenses                | 2743.00  |
| Salaries                | 100.00   |
| Special permits         | 7.50     |
| City taxes              | 11.30    |

After the expenditures of the month there is a balance in the general fund of $1,025.38.

In the water fund the receipts for the month amounted to $752.10, while the expenditures were $638.39, leaving a balance in the fund of $1,120.33.

Trustee Hynding called attention to the rapidly diminishing balance in the general fund, and as a matter of economy Chairman Merrill suggested that an effort be made by the heads of departments to curtail the pay roll by dispensing with extra help.

After allowing the usual list of claims the council adjourned until the first Monday in next month.

NOTABLE WEDDING SERVICE
AT THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Handsomely decorated by loving hands, the interior of cozy little St. Peter's Church presented a handsome setting within which were exchanged the vows which united for life Miss Pauline Beeger, daughter of Mrs. Henry Beeger and John Leslie Barneson of San Mateo. All day long loved friends and relatives of the bride labored with deft fingers, arranging flowers and greenery, until the sacred edifice was a perfect bower of beauty. Arranged about the windows were boughs of the stately redwood, emblematic of the nativity of the bride, while the approaches to the chancel and the pulpit had been banked with delicate ferns and smilax, relieved with touches of marguerites and delicately tinted pink and white carnations.

Hanging over the approach to the chancel rail, where the nuptial vows were pledged, was a massive wedding bell composed of the same materials.

Long before 8 o'clock, the hour set for the ceremony, the church was filled to its utmost capacity by the invited guests, intimate friends of the families of the bride and groom. As the bridal party entered the church and approached the chancel they were received by Rev. B. Charles Gardner of Stanford University, Dean of the Convocation of San Jose, who read the impressive marriage ritual of the Episcopal Church. Entering the church the bridal couple were accompanied by Miss Lulu Beeger, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Lionell T. Barneson, a younger brother of the groom as best man, and followed by Miss Gertrude Beeger, Miss Katherine Barnes, Miss Muriel Barneson and Miss Chettie Nesbit, the bridesmaids.

Following the ceremony the guests repaired to the handsome home of Mrs. Beeger, the bride's mother, where a wedding reception was held, and late in the evening the bridal couple departed for a wedding tour of Southern California.

A member of one of the prominent pioneer families of San Mateo county, attractive and accomplished, the bride has been one of the leaders of the younger local set, beloved by a host of friends. The groom is son of Captain John Barneson, a capitalist of San Mateo, and is recognized as a young man of brilliant promise. Both are graduates of Stanford University, which institution they entered at the same time as graduates of Sequoia High School. Upon their return from their wedding trip the young couple will take up their residence at Fair Oaks in a handsome cottage, the wedding gift of Captain and Mrs. Barneson.

Will Confer on Road Building.

Mayor Daniel McSwaney of South San Francisco has appointed the following committee: Fred Cunningham, Andrew Hynding, H. Coffinbury, City Attorney Colldberg and E. I. Woodman to act in conjunction with Mayor Rolph and the Mission Promotion Association in providing ways and means for grading and widening the San Bruno road from the Potrero to San Bruno. The project is a good one and should receive every encouragement from the property owners of the north end of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Coryell are in Los Angeles, where they may remain for another week or so. The recent cold snap played havoc with the Coryells' orchid conservatories, the choicest and rarest blooms which were to make their debut at this time. The houses, upon being heated with oil, became filled with the gases of this heat, which caused the plants to die. Orchids, as a rule, are the hardest of all flowers, remaining in bloom often for weeks, and even months, and when worn have the heavy virtue of an "everlasting" flower, always reviving after hours of wear; but the fumes of the oil burner proved ruinous. Incidentally, the mishap caused the loss of several thousands of dollars, and some rare varieties that were destroyed are very difficult to replace.

Funeral of Miss Doyle.

Miss Marjorie Doyle, a sister of Mrs. T. C. Cochran at this place, passed away at Los Angeles last Monday after an illness of several months. The remains arrived here on the 9:16 train yesterday morning and were taken to the Church of the Nativity where a requiem mass was celebrated. Interment took place in Holy Cross cemetery where her father and mother are buried.

Miss Doyle was well known in Menlo Park, having often visited her father and mother at this place. She was a native of San Francisco, aged 26 years. The young woman went south some time ago hoping that the mild climate of that locality would restore her health. She was an estimable young woman, beloved by all who knew her.

PASSING OF WELL KNOWN
YOUNG CATHOLIC PRIEST

Rev. Theodore A. Keller, who died at St. Bridget's church in San Francisco on Wednesday morning, was well known in Menlo Park, having attended St. Patrick's Seminary for a number of years and in which institution he was ordained a priest in June, 1909. He was a classmate of Father George Lacombe of this place. Father Keller was born in Oakland 30 years ago. His parents reside there. He received his academic education at St. Patrick's school, West Oakland, and later attended St. Ignatius college in San Francisco.

The sudden death of the young priest has caused general sorrow in the parish and throughout church circles in San Francisco and Oakland. His career was most promising, as he had proven himself at college a brilliant orator and conscientious student.

He is survived by his parents and four brothers. They are Rev. William Keller, pastor in St. Philip's parish, and Howard, Albert and Edwin, students at St. Patrick's seminary.
